CONTINUING EDUCATION & CUSTOMIZED TRAINING

"It is a goal of the Chisago County HRA-EDA to provide college-based training for businesses and residents within the county, so the HRA-EDA has teamed up with Pine Technical and Community College (PTCC) to create an Education Hub. The Education Hub provides training opportunities either on-line or in person.

- Nancy Hoffman Executive Director, Chisago County HRA-EDA

The trainings listed in this brochure are available for you Live at the HRA-EDA Office in North Branch or Virtual from your own computer. Seating is limited to the first 20 registrants."

A NATURAL RESOURCE FOR BUSINESS

Leadership and High Performance Team Building Series

Discovering Your Natural Talents and Genetic Skills for High Performance Teams—The Talent Matching Concept

Most managers and teams have little idea of the untapped talent on their team. In many cases people themselves are not aware of all of their talents! In this class participants will take a 100 question proprietary survey to determine natural traits and specific skills. An interpretation of results will be presented along with tips on talent matching for teams- matching the right person to tasks and projects based on natural abilities. Bonus- some tips on hiring the right people will also be presented to help prevent hiring the wrong person for the job. Learn about yourself and coworkers, boost your self-confidence and end the costly game of trial and error in assigning team tasks!

Date: April 19, 2019, 8:30am - 10:30am

Improving Work Ethic and Personal Responsibility

Does your organization struggle with poor attendance, cell phone addiction, time and material theft, company property abuse? You are not alone! Most organizations struggle with these basic work ethic issues and many more! In this class participants will explore the definition of "work ethic" and review a checklist of over 20 common work ethic violations. Gain insights and methods to instill a strong work ethic in yourself and team. Curb the human instinct for poor work ethic and turn your organization into a personally responsible high performance, self-monitoring culture! Develop a "Code of Conduct" rule set and help teach others the great benefits of strong work ethic through storytelling and personal experiences.

Date: May 17, 2019 8:30am—10:30am

Self-Motivation, Inspiration and Drive- Motivation You Can Use!

Self-Motivation comes from developing a life balanced set of personal goals. The four areas of life balance are: career, material, relationships/activities, and health. Most people lead lives either with no real motivational goals or their goals are out of balance. This dramatically impacts their energy, performance and mood at work. This class is designed as a personal and team retreat where participants will set short term goals. They will also have an opportunity to create a personal or team goals "vision board" to take back with them and post after class. Learn the 10 step formula of goal setting used by peak performers and be inspired every day!
